FAMILY LEGACY CONTINUES

Woodwind is more than a sailing experience. It's a family tradition built on sharing the magic of being on the water. Today, that tradition continues under the stewardship of professional sailors Andy Schell & Mia Karlsson, who bring a lifetime of sailing experience and a deep love for Chesapeake Bay sailing on every trip.

Andy and Mia's connection to Woodwind runs deep. They first stepped aboard in 2006 at the start of their own sailing

Sailing in Annapolis: TWO SCHOONERS, ONE GREAT EXPERIENCE

Come Sail Away...

Annapolis is "America's Sailing Capital" in the heart of the Chesapeake. A trip to the area wouldn't be complete without a sailing cruise of the Annapolis harbor and through the surrounding Bay. Experience the joy of sailing on our splendid yachts, Woodwind and Woodwind II.

Each and every trip on the Woodwinds is unique. As we head underway, you are sure to get a waterfront tour of the Naval Academy, the scenic Severn River, Spa Creek and other points of interest.

Both boats were custom designed and built specifically for sailing on the Chesapeake Bay. The Woodwinds are replicas of the classic, fast wooden schooners that were built as "yachts" in the early part of the twentieth century. Woodwind has won the 117 mile Great Chesapeake Bay Schooner Race, from Baltimore to Norfolk, multiple times. Her handsome mahogany brightwork, chrome and roomy cockpit distinguish her from cargo carrying work vessels.

careers and have since gone on to lead offshore expeditions around the world through 59° North Offshore Sailing. That blend of local roots and global experience shapes the spirit aboard Woodwind today.

The extended family of captains and crew are chosen for their sailing expertise, friendliness, and enthusiasm, creating an onboard atmosphere that is relaxed, welcoming, and unforgettable. And for those inspired to take their love of sailing even further, Woodwind is just the beginning—opening the door to bigger adventures offshore with Andy and Mia.
